“THE WAY I KNOW”

“Hey, wait a minute, I can’t see, I don’t know where to walk.” The small boy clasped his brother’s hand tightly. The brother said, “I know the path. I’ve been this way before. Follow me.” Jesus has said, “Follow me,” and yet so often the way is too hard and temptations so great. We are like small children who are anxious to be pleasing and wanting to obey, but we cannot see and do not know where to walk. The Bible describes Jesus as our “elder brother.” It is comforting to know that we have an elder brother who has been this way before. He has known, as we know now, of love offered and rejected, of loneliness in a crowd, of a striving both within and without, of yearning for a return to the security and love of another time. The Bible tells us that we can find strength to overcome our shortcomings, comforts for our heartbreaks and tears, and our anxieties and weariness. We can find peace in the night when we fully accept the guiding hand of Jesus, our elder brother. Jesus said to His disciples, “Lo, I am with you always, even to the end of the earth.” Matt. 28: 20. It is so important that we place our hand in the hand of God through belief and obedience to the Lord. Can He really be our Lord and Master if we refuse to do His will and allow Him to lead us? Jesus said, “Why call ye me Lord, Lord, and do not the things which I say?” Luke 6: 46. We must change our lives and follow after the leading of Jesus. We must follow the Lord now and forevermore, and through faithfulness someday inherit the promise to the faithful.

*Great "Give Me The Bible" Television
Conference and Luncheon.*

From Dan's desk:

The "GIVE ME THE BIBLE" television program conference and fellowship luncheon was held yesterday in the activity building. We had a great attendance and wonderful food and fellowship with sister congregations, preachers, Elders, Deacons and the wives of such men. We are so grateful to ROBERT THORNTON for coming to speak to us also. He always does a great job and we appreciate his efforts. Robert is the meteorologist for NBC 56 in Tyler. We are grateful to all those who helped in making preparation for the meeting and to those in the congregation who attended. I think all who attended can truthfully say, "It was one of our best." We are so glad to have you present this morning and those who may be visiting with us, we say thank you for joining us in our worship hour today. We want to invite you to come back tonight or when you have the opportunity. The weather has again changed this morning, but that is common to the state of Texas. I am sure we will have colder days ahead. The warmth of the building and the fellowship of God's people is always present when we come together. Remember the Birthday/Anniversary fellowship tonight after services and Monday Night For The Master tomorrow evening at 6:15 p.m. See you tonight.

The Empty Seat

The absentee member met the preacher on Monday morning and said, "Well, my seat was empty again yesterday, wasn't it?" The preacher replied, "No, it wasn't." "What!" said brother Absent, "I wasn't there. Who was in my seat?" The preacher responded, "The devil was in it, grinning up at me and saying, I got him
